ANTH 182M
Introduction to the Archaeological Analysis of Stone Tools, Architecture, and Ceramics

Learn Archaeological Analysis Skills!

Summer Session B  Aug. 2 – Sept. 11, 2021
MTWR 11-12:20

Want to understand how ancient art and technology was made and used? Want to understand how archaeologists gather information to develop their grand interpretations of the past? If your answer is yes then this is the class for you. In our course meetings you will develop the basic skills needed to analyze and interpret stone tools, architecture, and ceramics from around the ancient world. Upon completion of this course you will be ready to begin your own archaeological analysis.
