

Experiencing

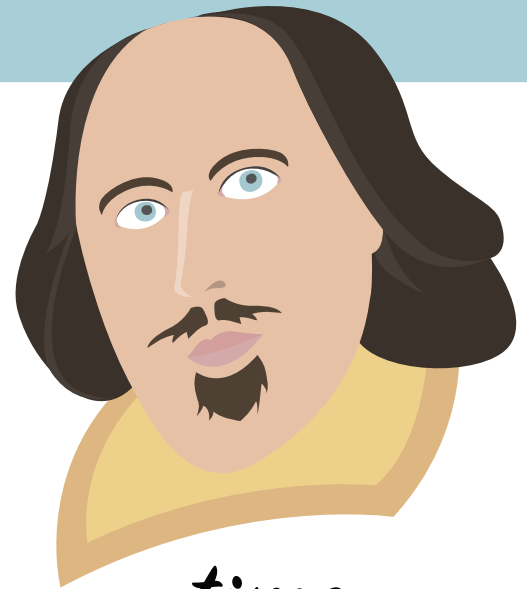

SHAKESPEARE

An Exciting and Innovative 8-unit Course Offered to FSSP Students this Summer

This course (INT 35LT) brings together two faculty, English Professor James Kearney and Theater & Dance Professor Irwin Appel, to offer FSSP students an immersive experience of Shakespeare that combines performance, literary study, and research.

As part of the course, FSSP students will attend a live theatrical production of The Winter's Tale, directed by Irwin Appel. FSSP students can expect Shakespeare to come to life on page and stage as we experience these multi-faceted plays from a variety of perspectives.

This course fulfills an Area G and European Traditions General Education requirement. In addition, 30 scholarships in the amount of $2,000 are available to FSSP students to offset the cost of unit fees.

time:

Monday - Thursday
12:30 - 3:20pm
Summer Session B
August 5 - September 14

place:

TD-E 1101
(Studio Theater)

Application process for a scholarship: to apply for a scholarship, please submit an email describing what interests you about this course (maximum 300 words). Email your essay to fssp@summer.ucsb.edu. On the subject line, type in: Shakespeare Scholarship. For more information, call (805) 893-2377.